Blairmore Council

The regular meeting of the Blairmore council took place
last night, the mayor and five councillors being present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved,
and a small batch of communications received consideration.

The following accounts were passed subject to approval of the different committees: D. A.
Sinclair $9.90, W. A. Beebe $29.40,
James Burrows $25.00, Dr. Mackenzie $62.50; Blairmore Hospital $44.00; D. A. Sinclair $28.25; A.
Morency $14.05; Brent Nolin &
Co. $25.00; Blairmore Hardware
Co. $1.00; P. O. Box rent $10.00;
A. M. Rosse $30.00, six months rent for storage room, and other smaller accounts.

An account was received from Morley Shannett for $44.25 for 115 hours services looking after the late Peter Tracey. The council considered this charge a hold-up and on motion voted 20 cents an hour for such services—$22.00.

The resignation of Councillor
O. Lagace was accepted.

A cheque for $400 was received from the government in connection with relief work in Blairmore. This work will commence today, when a group of teams will be put on to plough up the ditches along Victoria Street.

Another Letter From A Blairmore Boy

In a letter to his parents, received this week, Walter Howe writes:

March 13th—Just received your letter while in the trench, and am writing this in the same place. German shells are shining about our heads, but are not doing much damage. Our cook had just finished cooking breakfast, and the boys had just left when a German shell exploded and put an end to our breakfast.
Our platoon stayed in an old house last night, and when the shells started to come over this morning we were ordered to the dug-outs. We had just left the place when a shell took the corner off.
We have had several lucky escapes, but do not take as much notice now as we did at first. My writing room is not a very clean place, and my desk is very high.
The boys are a lively lot in our trench.
We often give the Hun a little scurrying.
We are getting to be regular cooks and diners—fancy bedsteads and eggs in the trenches being common. We eat the eggs as we go along.

March 14th—We leave the trench tonight for a few days. It has been quiet this morning, but I guess the Germans will give us a "send-off" tonight. They seem to know when the relay comes on.
We found some potatoes in an old house round here, and have had some "French fried." Some class! The weather is very changeable, hot and cold, but no rain. The Germans have just started to shell our headquarters again. Gee, but German shells play a different tune to "Home, Sweet Home!" But we just lay low in our dug-out and let them bang away.

March 15th—Just back in our billet again. Had a nice bath and change of underwear, and it makes a fellow feel fine. Some of the boys had cake and candy sent them, and I had some cigarettes, so we are having a fine time.

March 17th of Ireland, like a summer's day—the best day since we left Canada—Had a fine concert last night—
a night back of the firing line—when the Germans don't know that there is a big artillery duel going on here now.
The British have the Germans beat a thousand different ways. We are off back to the trenches again tonight. Kind remembrance to all friends.

The usual services will be held in the Baptist church on Sunday morning and evening. We are pleased to announce that Mrs. Alston, of Montreal, will be present and will sing at the evening service.

Oddfellows Anniversary

The ninety-sixth anniversary of Oddfellowship will be celebrated in Blairmore on Sunday,
the 23rd inst. Special divine service will be held in the opera house at 3 p.m., at which Rev.
Bro J. F. Hunter will be the preacher.

It is expected that the opera house will be taxed to its full capacity on this occasion, as it is estimated that at least two hundred and fifty members of the triple-locks will be present.

The members of the order
will assemble at the Oddfellows' hall at 2 p.m., where after the usual preliminary exercises
they will form in procession.
Coleman, Bellevue and Gowley lodges will attend in a body.

An invitation is extended to the general public to attend the service at the opera house, which will be one of the most interesting and impressive services ever held in The Post.
The best musical and vocal talent will be on hand, and the programme will include solos and duets in addition to the regular sacred songs.

Local and General

The Italian fleet, the strongest

set out, and are within a few hours of the Adriatic.

A number of Frank friends of the late Peter Carruthers will journey to Lethbridge by tonight's express to attend the funeral ceremonies.

The Encampment degrees will be conferred at the regular meeting of Crown Nest Encampment No. 8 on Wednesday night next. A full attendance is requested.

ness at Hanburg, has opened up a

All motor manufacturing plants
in Scotland have been placed under government control in pursuance of the government's plans to accelerate the supplying of war future be run night and day in the production of motor lorries for the transportation department.

Joseph Wheeler, a prominent poultry-raiser, of Cheshire, Connecticut, found among a recently imported Rhode Island red brood, a chicken perfectly formed except that it had four legs. All went well for nearly a week. Then it was discovered that the two sets of legs were arranged for locomotion in opposite directions. The result was that the chick pulled itself apart. People from all over the country came to see it, and in deed it has been turned over to a taxidermist.

By a special bill, now before the legislature at Edmonton, the town of Claresholm is permitted to consolidate its debenture debt, substituting for debentures with 16 years of life others with 30 years to run.
All the holders of the municipal debentures of this town have consented to exchange the debentures now held for those with the longer term.
This enables the town to spread its payments over a longer period and relieves in some measure the financial impasse in which it found itself.

The Unexploited West

Realizing that the reserve of meat food in that portion of the Canadian West, known as "the fertile belt," has during recent years been rapidly utilized, the Department of the Interior has recently published a very comprehensive and elaborate compilation of all authentic information available respecting the natural resources of the unexploited regions of Northwestern Canada.

For some time past there has been a demand for a publication of this kind and this report, which is known as the "Unexploited West" is designed to fill that need. It gives in very interesting form, facts regarding the climate, soil, timber, rivers and lakes, minerals, and fish and game of the little known regions of the Peace River District, and Northern Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, east from the Rocky Mountains to Hudson Bay.

This report is profusely illustrated throughout with over one hundred interesting scenes depicting the agricultural progress and possibilities of Canada's fertile northland. A copy may be procured free of charge upon application to P. C. C. Lynch, Superintendent of the Railway Lands Branch, Department of the Interior, Ottawa, under whose direction the publication has been prepared.

Alberta Newspapers Cannot be "Bought"

"The man who told the minister that the liquor interests would buy up the newspapers in Alberta, most of which could be purchased, may know the liquor interests but not the Alberta newspapers."

The above paragraph is taken from the Calgary Alberta, and is entirely true insofar as the papers of this province are concerned. It is altogether needless that the Licensed Victuallers' Association will use a large amount of advertising space in the newspapers throughout the province during the liquor campaign, but the buying of this space does not mean that the news columns are controlled or in any way influenced by the contract. In fact, the letter issued by the Association expressly states that the contract is sent "without asking you to commit the editorial columns of your paper in any way." It must be distinctly understood that there is a vast difference between purchasing space in the advertising columns and "buying up" the paper.

"There is no doubt but that the question of prohibition is a delicate one. This being the case, why should not this matter, which is one of the great issues before the Province today, be discussed in the columns of the local paper? In British fair play, an opportunity should be given both sides to advance their case. It is not reasonable to expect that the editor of the local paper should be asked to sell goods to a hotel man. No one would claim that the dry goods man, the grocer, the furniture dealer, the hardware man, were "bought" by the hotel men for supplying them with goods out of their respective lines of merchandise. It is plain business, that's all. The advertising space is the publisher's stock in trade, and as long as he continues himself to sell this commodity, he is entitled to the same position as the editorial columns be used for matter he himself does not believe in.

If we know the newspaper boys right, these will not be uneasy if any who will "sell out." There may be some who entertain firm convictions one way or the other, and if they do it is their duty to the public to present their arguments according to their own light on the subject.—E.X.

Will Help Pass Flines

While in OTTAWA recently, John Heron strongly urged the Government to interfere with the railways and endeavor to have them compile coal from the United States, and to use the product of The Pass mines. Mr. Heron pointed out that a large amount of coal is every year imported from the States, and at the same time the Albertan mines are idle, or only working part time. This stated affairs has resulted in considerable hardship in a number of the mining towns, but if the coal orders that are now sent away were all retained by the Alberta operators the situation would be vastly improved. Mr. Heron interviewed several members of the Cabinet on the matter, and all were greatly impressed with the force of his arguments, and promised to do all in their power to obtain improved condition of affairs.

Mr. Heron also took occasion to interview the C.P.R. officials at Winnipeg, and we give the assurance that his representations on behalf of The Pass mines would be favorably considered. He was highly pleased with the reception which he received at the hands of the railroad officials, and is hopeful that the C.P.R. Pass will be greatly improved the coming year. There seems to be no good reason why the railway companies and other corporations should be "carrying coal to Newcastle."—MacLeod Spectator.

LOOK TO YOUR PLUMBING

You know what happens in a house in which the plumbing is in poor condition—everybody in the house is liable to contract typhoid or some other fever. The digestive organs perform the same functions in the human body as the plumbing does for the house, and they should be kept in first class condition all the time. If you have any trouble with your digestion take Chamberlain's Tablets and you are certain to get quick relief. For sale by all dealers.

A Volunteer's Farewell

Time—"Just before the battle."

Dear mother, I've enlisted,
I must help my country dear,
If I had the call resisted,
How could I be happy here?
While the Motherland is calling,
To her sons across the sea,
Day by day our friends are falling
In this fight with Germany.

So dear mother don't be grieving,
For you know the cause is right.
We'll not know just when we're leaving,
But to you I soon will write.

Think of those in Belgium, mother,
Sad would be our fate today,
Had not husband, son and brother
Thrown themselves into the fray.
Still strong hearts and arms are needed
To help to stem the cruel tide, Though their country's call have been fled.

Surely not in vain have died,
I shall not forget you, mother,
When I'm gone so far away.
Well I know that you'll remember
For your boy each day to pray.
Should I fall in battle's mesh,
You must never grieve for me,
For I did just like a soldier
Fighting for my dear country.

Be, goodbye, mother, and God bless you,
Thanks for all your love and care;
Let not this parting so distress you,—
I am proud to do my share.
And when fighting is all over,
And the victory is won,
You will not forget, dear mother,
That you gave your eldest son.

The Hat That Mother Used to Wear

The hat that mother used to wear, it surely was a sight to see. She put it on again today, and gee! she looked a fright. But when we were little, years ago it can't be because "twas when she wore that hat that mother loaded dad."

The hat that mother used to wear, it wasn't very big. And looking at it now it seems a most outlandish rig. But still it got results that hat, once mother wore that hat, and she did look a peach in it. Well, that hat that mother used to wear looks to us kids a scream. But father says when mother wore that hat she was a dream.

But when we were little, years ago it can't be because "twas when she wore that hat that mother loaded dad." But maybe it is so. Since dad declares these are the facts, and, well, he ought to know. What is the answer then, you ask. It is hard to find.

In days gone by, they seem to say that mother wore—was blind. The hat may have been pretty fierce, we can say as to that. But "twas the girl that father saw. He never saw the hat."

"Vim"

(This stirring poem is being enclosed in all garments and packages sent to the Canadian soldiers in the hospitals and at the front by the Canadian Red Cross Society.)

With a resolute heart, and cheerful?
Or turn your soul from the light of day
With a brave heart, and fearless?
Or, a traitor's tale to a trouble's a pound.

Or a trouble is what you make it,
But it isn't the fact that you're hurt that counts.
But only—how did you take it?

Or you're beaten to earth? Well, well, what's that?
Come with a smiling face!
It's nothing against you to be knocked flat.
But to lie there—that's disgrace.

The harder you're thrown, the higher you bounce!
The prouder your blackened eye!
It isn't the fact that you're hurt that counts.
But how did you fight—and why?

And they'd you be dead to death, what then?
If you did the best you could.
If you played your part in the world of men,
Why, the critic would call it good.

Death comes with a crawl, or comes with a pounce.
But whether 'tis slow or spry,
It isn't the fact that you're dead that counts.
But only—how did you die?

FOUND A CURE FOR HERMIAE

"I suffered with rheumatism for two years and could not get my right hand to my mouth for that length of time," writes Leo L. Chapman, Macleod, Iowa. "I suffered terrible pain, and I was unable to sleep or to eat. Five years ago I began using Chamberlain's Liniment and in two months I was well and have not suffered with rheumatism since." What Is Your Diet?

Canadians eat too much meat. They are one of the three greatest meat eating peoples in the world, Australia and the United States being two other. High prices for meat are causing the cost of food as well as its nutritive value should be considered.

Prof. James Long, the eminent British authority, recently addressed the following advice to the War Office: "Jams has three and a half times the value of butter. Its value lies in its richness in sugar—of which it is almost equal to the minerals present in the skins of fruits. In its laxative character and its mechanical aid to digestion."

"The sugar of fruit has a remarkable effect on nutrition. Commercial sugar, if eaten too freely, causes irritation, indigestion, and other forms of indigestion. The most nutritious and useful variety of fruit and sugar made from plums, apricot, gooseberry and currant, but a mixture of plum and apple stand at the head of the list. Jam, simply put, is considered as a dairy but as an article of food."

Dr. Frank T. Shatt, of Ottawa, Dominion chemist, gives us the following authoritative statement as to the great importance of vegetables, especially for long hours. The importance of connection with small gardens in towns and cities is very apparent, and the subject is opportune at this time of the year. It may be that a small garden will keep down the doctor's bills.

"That many of the ills that flesh is heir to arise from indigestion, and that a fact that none of us should realize—and the earlier in life applies especially to those who live in the city, eat too much. As a result, we get too stout to live, and what is still worse, serious, an extraordinary strain is put on certain of the organs of the system in nature's effort to get rid of the waste. Further, we who live more or less sedentary lives, eat too much meat; the man who sits at a desk all day long or stands behind a counter may wear his hands as the navy or ploughman, but it is a different kind of work. It does not call for the same amount of strong food. There is no necessary dietary by formula or to weigh out what we should eat, but we ought to guide to a certain extent in our eating by common sense and the knowledge which science furnishes respecting the requirements of the body for the maintenance of the vital forces, the expenditure of energy and the repair of tissue."

"As city people we might keep in better health and live more cheaply if we would eat less meat and more concentrated food, and use more vegetables and fruit. And this advice might especially be emphasized for the summer diet, when there is not the same call for the system for the sterner foods."

"Fresh vegetables are wholesome, palatable and productive of good health. Though in direct food value, it must not be supposed they are destitute of these nutrients which build up the body tissue and keep the machinery going. It would be possible, though not desirable, to live exclusively on vegetable foods. But vegetables and especially fresh vegetables, are not to be regarded as the standpoint of maintenance—though we assert that now-days they would make a very good basis for the ground of security. We need urge their extensive use on the grounds simply that they are appetizing and furnish variety to the diet. They are, in addition, with few exceptions, crisp, possess a medicinal value; they are safe to digest and afford that bulk of volume to the food necessary for the right digestion of the alimentary tract. Many vegetables contain which are gently laxative, relieving constipation, that scourge that is the forerunner of so many diseases. And, again, many vegetables, especially those used in salads, have a special value in cooling the blood and, therefore, in summer months, especially in the summer season.

"Fresh vegetables are vastly superior to those that are wilted from keeping a day or two, in succulence, crispness and insubstantiality. To be enjoyed at their best, vegetables must be eaten strictly fresh."

Rod And Gun For April

"The Steels!" the first "Garry Trot" that comes out of the Ocean, is the subject of an article by the well known writer of Rod and Gun, in Canada. April issue of Rod and Gun, in Canada, published by W. W. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont. "The Wise Fish" by Willard Hubbard, is a humorous literary dialogue in which Sir Pike, Jerry Minnow, Bill Trench, Peter Perch, Johnny Roach, Tim Gudgeon, Jimmy Grayling and others of their ilk take part. The "Forest Fire Problem in Algonquin Park" is dealt with by W. L. Wise and the fishing department and Gun and Ammunition departments are of special interest this month. In addition to these, many there are many other stories and articles of interest to the readers of an outdoor magazine.

Two Year Agreement

The vote of the Miners of District 18, T.M.W. of A., was in favor of the agreement arranged by the Scale Committee at Calgary. The majority was large. Some of the figures are shown below. The miners here are now working under the new agreement, which is not materially different from the one in force for the past three years. While it is only for a two year term it will probably tie the contracting parties over a difficult period in the history of coal mining as of other industries, in the Canadian West. It will also have furnished, to both parties concerned, an opportunity to compare the merits of a peaceful settlement as opposed to conflict.

At Coleman, Alberta.

A couple of weeks ago we announced that the weather man made a change in his program because Danny Lewis and Michel Bousé dared to come out in winter hats. The Cronin Review quotes more corroborative evidence that spring is here, as some canary birds had arrived and Mitt Ham was doing the town of Creston in his last year's panto-

A tip in civic economy, from the proceedings of Blairmore town council: Bartlett-Rosse-That Mr. A. McLeod be appointed chief of police, subject to the chief fire-chief and sanitary inspector, at a salary of $30 per month, divided to commence April 1st. All Fool's Day. Carried.—Lethbridge Telegram.

A well known doctor of The Pass is reported to have won the affections of and united his fortunes with a bouncing young widow of Lundbreck. General sympathy is expressed, but we extend our sincerest.

The Ponoka Herald refuses its columns to some local people who desired to air a religious row in print, and advises the aggrieved ones to keep their thoughts away from Matthew 5: 38 and instead find solace in Luke 6: 29.

An error occurred in our local columns last week. In referring to the visit of Rev. Mr. Peck, we announced that he would address a public meeting in the Oddfellows hall on Tuesday the 7th, instead of Thursday the 9th.

Peter Tracey passed to the Great Beyond at 10 o'clock on Friday night, after a two-weeks' illness of pneumonia. Mr. Tracey had reached the age of ninety years and had been a resident of The Pass for upwards of fifteen years. Just two weeks before his death he was able to handle a cross-cut of wood saw, being physically strong. Of late years his hearing had become very much impaired, until of late he had almost completely lost his hearing power. Two days before his death he could sit up in bed unaided and displayed great vitality and endurance. He leaves one sister, Mrs. Downer, who is also well advanced in years and a resident of Blairmore. A lady took place at the Catholic cemetery, Blairmore, on Sunday afternoon, Rev. Father Beaton officiating.

Mrs. C. Church returned from Pincher Creek on Tuesday.

Messrs. Dutil and Lyon motored to Pincher Creek for the military sports on Easter Monday.

Joseph Little has purchased several carloads of lumber, which is being unloaded on his property at Lingo City, to be used in the erection of several residential and business blocks there this summer.

The local Oddfellows are anticipating a big turnout for their anniversary parade and service on Sunday, the 25th inst. It is expected that members from Cowley, Coleman and Bellevue will participate in the day's proceedings.

National prohibition has been defeated in Australia. The voting resulted as follows: For national prohibition 247,217; for continuance 257,442. For local no-license 229,474; for continuance 273,405. Since 1911 the percentage of no-license votes has fallen from nearly 50 to about 45.

A famous Blairmore crocker is busy again branding the town council, the relief committee and practically everybody else but himself as "graffers." We would advise him to turn the story around, as he's a well known fact that he has been guilty of more actual grafting than all the rest of The Pass people combined.

While handling a small gun on Thursday morning, Rennie Gresham came near losing one of his hands. In an unaccountable manner the trigger was tripped, his bullet passing through the palm of his hand. The doctor was called and on examination found that the finger bone was not severed, and that the wound is not so serious as at first thought, but it will be some time before he will be able to use the hand.

The baseball season opened on Saturday when a number of our local boys got together for a match with the married "volunteers." The teams were made up of:

Married: H. E. Lyon, A. Moroney, C. R. Voelker, C. H. McLeod, Albert Olsen, J. Lewis, J. Burrows, "Sid" Blue and R. C. Green (the blue, of course, could have been disqualified.)

Singles: H. O. Benson, D. Lewis, Albert Mjori, J. Barbour, J. Turner, George Patton, R. Patterson, George Patterson.

Quite a crowd of spectators witnessed a good game which was won by the "marrieds." Benson caught the ball of Mr. Hollman when the part.

The special meetings which have been held in the Methodist church the past week will be continued each night next week. Revs. Cook and Hart are assisting Mr. Young. The meetings have so far been well attended.

Mr. Peck, organizer for the temperance and moral reform, addressed a meeting in the Methodist church last night. The meeting opened with an appropriate hymn, "O Lord Christian Soldiers," followed by a solo by Mr. R. Dickson. We understand that only seventeen raters are applying for the position on the Blairmore council left vacant through the resignation of Councillor Lagace.

Mr. Peck, of Clearwater, formerly organizer of the U. F. A., will address a public meeting in the L.O.O.F. hall tonight, Friday, the 9th, at 8 o'clock, on the "Prohibition for Prohibition." Opportunity will be given for the opposition to present their case. Mr. Peck believes that booze ought to go, and ask fellows that believe that booze ought to stay, come and state your case tonight.

The concert and dance to be held in the opera house on Friday night next, in aid of the Red Cross Fund, promises to be a pleasant affair. We understand that arrangements have been made to have a brand new Coleman orchestra on the job, equipped with the very latest dance music. The concert will commence at 8 o'clock and dancing will start at 9:30. Refreshments will be served at midnight. Everyone should turn out for this big "blow-out."

Rumor has it that one of the Crown's Nest Pass principals, well at Calgary attending the temperance convention, endeavored to uplift fortunes with one of the fairest of Sunny Alberta. Whether or not he succeeded, we are unable to find out, but those who are capable of judging from experience and their knowledge of the individuals concerned claim that there is every probability of the story being true. However, in order to be sure, the boys and girls of the town in which that principal is a servant have gathered up all the old cans, bottles and stovepipes and are ready for the grand finale.

Frank Happenings

Tom Sanderson was down from Lethbridge last week, visiting friends.

Mar Poy, of the Blairmore restaurant, has opened up in Frank making the second restaurant here.

Mrs. T. Longworth left on Tuesday night for Medicine Hat, where she will stay a week or two with her husband.

Rev. J. F. Hunter and H. E. Lyon were up from Blairmore to attend the temperance meeting on Thursday night.

It is likely that the remnants of Macleod's "Ponies" will play back-ket-ball again this summer, under the old name. Although Macleod and Parker will be greatly missed, a good team will be put out.

The special meetings which have been held in the Methodist church the past week will be continued each night next week. Revs. Cook and Hart are assisting Mr. Young. The meetings have so far been well attended.

Mr. Peck, organizer for the temperance and moral reform, addressed a meeting in the Methodist church last night. OBITUARY

THOMAS MACDONELL

On Tuesday morning the community of Frank was shocked to learn of the sudden demise of Thomas Macdonnell, proprietor of the Union Hotel. For some years past Mr. Macdonnell had been suffering from a condition of the heart which gradually grew more serious until it appeared that a final collapse might occur at any time. On several occasions during the past few weeks he suffered from spasmodic faints during which he suffered intense pain. It was following one of these fainting spells that on Tuesday morning his spirit fled and his sufferings ceased.

Mr. Macdonnell was one of the pioneers of the Crown's Nest Pass, having been a resident since the building of the Canadian Pacific railroad through this district. About twelve years ago, in partnership with John McDonald, he entered into the hotel business at Frank, which occupation he had since followed. He was one of the best known of the citizens of Frank, being of a quiet, genial and honest disposition, as well as of a strictly temperate and moral character. He was about fifty-three years of age and unmarried.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday to his ex-partner, Mr. McDonald, and the latter arrived in Frank on Wednesday morning to look after the funeral arrangements. Interment took place at the Catholic cemetery, Blairmore, yesterday afternoon, Rev. Father Beaton officiating, and was very largely attended.

Mr. Macdonnell was a native of the province of Ontario, and had no relatives in this province.

PETER CARLUTHERS

A further surprise came on Wednesday night, when word from Lethbridge stated that Peter Carluthers, who recently enlisted with the Tenth Regiment, had passed away suddenly from heart failure. He was about 35 years of age, and from all appearances enjoyed good health. For the past three years he has been in the employ of that P. R. gas conductor and resigned his position at the commencement of the war to enlist for service. About two weeks ago he paid a farewell visit to his friends at Frank, and during his visit contracted an injury to his health. Peter was a favorite with all with whom he came in contact, being a man of quiet disposition, and his loss will be keenly felt in social circles in this section of The Pass, where he has so long resided. He was a native of Ontario, and we understand his remains will be sent forward to his home in Ottawa on tomorrow morning, followed by a funeral service to be held in Knox Presbyterian church at 1 o'clock.

The Lethbridge Herald of Thursday says:

"The Union Jack at the Battery barracks was at half mast this morning for the first time, in respect to Bombardier Peter Carluthers, who died early this morning, presumably of heart failure. Mr. Carluthers was on guard duty last night and at two o'clock this morning was suddenly taken ill. Lieut. Dr. McEwen was immediately called and then Dr. Thompson, but to no avail, and twenty minutes later death occurred."

The deceased was an old-timer in this country. He came to Cranbrook some 22 years ago, where he was in the employ of the C.P.R. He was a member of the famous lacrosse team of Cranbrook, and played in the local team. He was one of Cranbrook's star players. Seven years ago he was moved to Lethbridge, where he was on tomorrow morning following and this city. While in Lethbridge he resided with Mr. Wm. Scott, 1215 4th Ave. S. E. January 1st he returned, and since then has been with the 20th Battery. Proof of the appreciation of his worth was shown some time ago when prominent citizens offered him a modesty caught him to refuse the stripes and it was not until April last that he accepted the name of Bombardier.

Bombardier Carluthers was born in Ottawa in 1880. He was survived by his father, who lives there, and several brothers and sisters in this country, among them being Mrs. Reynolds of Granum. His father was notified this morning.

Naturally his sudden death was a great blow to this comrade of the 20th Battery, among whom he was very popular and greatly beloved.

Major Stewart, in an interview this morning spoke very highly of him, saying that he was as good a soldier as he was a lacrosse player.
